U	G
n	0
i	v
n i t e d	e r	` `
e	r	301
d	\mathbf{n}
	\mathbf{m}	~ \\\\\
S	e
t	\mathbf{n}
a	t
t		المستراكية المراكب الم
States		وسرار سرت المحافي والمساحل المساحل الم
s

U.S. Government

Name: Predicting the 2016 Election Section: Leveled Assessment Score: /5

Directions: You are an analysis for KETV news agency in Nebraska and your editor is asking your opinion on who will win the upcoming 2016 election. The major candidates are Hilary Clinton (D-NY), Donald Trump (R-NY), Jill Stein (Green-IL), and Gary Johnson (Libertarian-NM).

Ouestions:

~~
	1.	First, come up with an explanation of the Electoral College that is no longer than two paragraphs. Your paragraphs will be used as a way to explain the electoral process on air so make it informative and in simplistic speech. Include how votes are assigned to states, how candidates win electoral votes (remember to include how Maine and Nebraska are different), who the electors actually are, and why we use this system. Use the National Archives and Records administration website to help you

2. Some viewers want to know why it is possible to win the popular vote, but still lose the election because of the Electoral College. Come up with a brief explanation and find examples.

3.	ahead	by "points". (Come up with a	_	ion. Find out wh	•	certain candidate is
4.		e 270toWin, YouGov, or the Real Clear Politics election maps to determine who the likely winner
	is. a.			leaning Democ r electoral vote
	L	Charles that
	D.			leaning republi r electoral vote
	C.			leaning to an ir r electoral vote	•	didate:
	d.	Based on yo	ur site who wi	ll win the electi	on and with ho	w many electora	l votes?
	e.	What perce Trump:		opular vote is ea inton:	ach of the candi Stein:	idates estimate t	to receive? Johnson:
	f.		•	• •	•	•	h 3 states they sho selected those thr
		ii.
		iii.						