

Sociology

Welcome to online Sociology

Name:

Section:

Directions: The information below will help you as you get started with your online Sociology course. Please feel free to e-mail me at kyle.tredinnick@ops.org with any questions you have throughout the course

What you will need each day:

- Computer or Tablet
 - o Phones will not be sufficient to complete daily assignments
- Earphones
 - o For videos attached to daily lessons when needed
 - o You can listen to music while you are working on lessons as long as it is not distracting you or other students.
- Pen/Pencil and Notebook
 - o Although the notes are located online it is highly recommended that you copy down your own set of notes. Paraphrasing or summarizing each slide is a good way of helping you remember the information

Getting Started:

- Log on to the course website
 - o <http://www.mrtredinnick.com/sociology.html>
- Take a minute to familiarize yourself with the course website (I know it is not finished yet)
 - o Unit I will be towards the bottom of the page, Unit V will be towards the top of the page
 - o At the very bottom of the course website there is a section called Sociology Course Resources. In here you will find websites that will be helpful to you as you complete the course.
 - o The Course Forum can be accessed by clicking on the picture of stick figures with talking bubbles under where it says Class Forum in the Sociology Course Resources section.
 - o Assignments will be handed in by using the Assignment Submission Form in the Sociology Course Resources section.

Class Expectations:

- Classwork is expected to be completed independently
- You may ask questions of your fellow classmates or the teacher
- Complete the Forum first as it will help give you an idea of the topics being covered in class
 - o Attached to each Forum are the day's learning objectives which will tell you what the day's focus will be and what you will be doing
 - o Some days will have special instructions that will be located underneath the day's learning objectives
- Class is designed to be completed at your own pace
 - o If you complete a module move on to the next one
 - o If you do not complete a day's materials complete them at home
 - o If you miss a day you are responsible for completing the day's materials on your own
 - Feel free to e-mail me or ask me any questions you may have

Completing Units:

- All materials for each unit are due to the teacher or drop box by the end of the Unit (End dates listed on website)
- Tests will be completed during the designated testing window (Need to be completed day of unless prior arrangements are made.